Jonathan Kletzien,
Advanced Media Design, Inc.

Jonathan Kletzien is a founding partner of Advanced Media Design, a cutting-edge boutique architectural rendering studio in Providence, Rhode Island. The firm specializes in computer generated, 3D modeling and rendering to create photo-realistic renderings and animation of sites, buildings and interiors. AMD accurately depicts the specifics of a design while capturing the spirit of the architect's vision. The firm won the 2007 Award for Excellence from the American Society of Architectural Illustrators for the Colgate University Science Library.

Jon received his BFA and BArch degrees from the Rhode Island School of Design (RISD), where he is currently an adjunct faculty member responsible for teaching drawing and advanced computer graphics in the architecture department. Before founding AMD, Jon worked at the architecture firm of Jacobs/Wyper and Associates in Philadelphia.
